LITTLE FLURRIES OF SNOW AND BIG FROSTS AT NIGHT. WOULDN'T THIS BE A GOOD TIME TO TALK FURS?

Cheapside is better prepared than ever before to cater to your wants in this direction.

We have a full stock of Dressed Skins in South Sea Seal, Persian Lamb, Bokran Lamb, Plucked and Unplucked Otter, Beaver and Astrachan Skins in six different qualities, Grey Lamb Skins, Black and Brown Labrador Seal Skins, Silver Coney, Grey Squirrel Circular Linings, Coon Skins, Sable Skins, Bear, Mink, etc., and can make any mottling that that anybody wants in any kind of garment, Caps, Muffs, Bows, Mantles, Jackets, Fan-lined Circulars, Collars and Cuffs, Gauntlets, Capes, Robes, etc., for men, women and children, equal to any city work.

We can make over, and are busy all the time making over, and repairing all sorts of furs into new shapes, "resuscitating," "rejuvenating," old and partially worn furs into stylish, presentable, wearable shapes. Bring in anything you have laid aside, "resurrect-has-beens" and if they are not much eaten and past redemption, we will surprise you. Otter worn for years can be plucked, dyed and made up as nice as seal and so on.

If you expect to get a Fur Mantle this winter come in now and select the skins, and let us have your measure. We will give you satisfaction or no sale. We use only the best parts of the skins, (no flanks or paws.) We put in only the best linings, all sown with silk, (no cotton) well stayed and warranted for three years. We will cheerfully make any repairs needed for three years or four for that matter. To our best Mantles, we think they are good for eight or ten years without repairs, but then you have the privilege as stated. No argument ought to be needed to convince you that the most desirable place to buy your furs is at Cheapside.

WE BUY HUNDREDS OF SKINS from first hands for cash and make them up on our own premises and know as a matter of fact No. 1, that we can make them much cheaper than we can buy them ready-made. Fact No. 2, that they are made of much better material and better, more substantially made. Fact No. 3, that they are a good deal cheaper, and we sell them cheaper.

FURS IS ONLY ONE DEPARTMENT with us and we have only space to say a few words to about the other goods.

WE HAVE NICE BOYS' AND YOUTHS' Suits and Overcoats, neat, stylish and good.

LAST SATURDAY was a big day with us, and a big flannel day. We were disappointed in not receiving our shipment of Grey Flannels, heavy all wool to sell at 20c, but being bound to keep our word to the letter, we cut down a higher priced flannel to 20c. Now we have a big lot of heavy, all-wool flannel, just in, to sell at 20c. Ladies' say they are better than they paid 25 cents for at other stores.

WE HAVE BIG BARGAINS all over the store. Now that barley is firm and on the raise, it will be good news that we will sell you a good 3-ly bar for $2.00.

IF YOU WANT stylish and cheap Millinery Mantle Cloths, Underclothing, cheap Grey, White or Black Fur Robes and Carpets, come and see us.

We have stacks of every class of goods "suitable to the season," just what you want, and the value we warrant a shade better than you can get in this section. Prices vary down.

TYNEDAGUA RESERVE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The deputation who left last week to spy out land in Muskoka have notified us of their arrival in that land of promise.

Several masked Deseronto youths celebrated Halloween on the Reserve to the annoyance of our people; fences were thrown down, buggies removed, and other depredations committed.

We are pleased to learn that John A. Lewis, of Deseronto, is a successful candidate.

Efforts are being made to establish an agricultural society for the members of the Band.

Many of our people witnessed the launch of the Obola on Tuesday. Conspicuous in the crowd was the portly figure of Jesse Martin in red costume.

LONSDALE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The water in the river here is very low for this time of year, though we have had considerable rain of late and hard frost a few nights closing the pond.

It snowed and was very cold, pleasant on Sunday, and the farmers are again ploughing.

Mr. Howell has been putting a large quantity of new machinery in his mill, and is determined not to be out-done in the manufacture of flour.

Mrs. Howell was taken very suddenly and severely sick on Saturday, but we are glad to hear she is getting much better.

A street in our village looks somewhat forsaken, and some of our neighbors, especially the young men, miss the occupants very much, viz. Mr. Robert Winters and his daughters, he having closed his house and gone to the States on a visit to friends.

It was very long since for him here since one Deseronto's young men captured his oldest daughter and carried her away. His second daughter, Emma, has gone to her brother's in Tweed, and the third and youngest, Sarah to Deseronto. Please send him The Tribune to Sackett's Harbour, Jefferson County, N. Y., to the end of the year; he thinks it will greatly cheer him up while absent from home.

Mr. J. G. Day, who has been the genial assistant of Mr. White during the building of the steel steamer, leaves for Montreal next week. Mr. Day has proved himself a capable official and has made himself a favorite with many friends who will regret his departure.

ROCKETS IN ANIMALS.

This disease is produced by an imperfect nutrition of the bones of young animals. Sheep, pigs, foals and puppies suffer from it more than calves. It is also common in the human family. In foals whose dam is worked hard, and which are not allowed to suck often enough, and in animals born in menageries, it is of common occurrence. Animals born with it will generally die, death being preceded by paralysis. In certain families the affection is hereditary, but anything that undermines the general health may develop it in an animal predisposed to it. The first indications of rockets are a swelling of the bones, and inflammation of the periosteum.

Afterwards the bones, especially those of the legs, bend and become distorted. The chief treatment must consist in removing the cause of the malady, by giving nutritious food, free access to its dam, tonics, lime water, and cod liver oil, and anything that laxatives when required. A dry airy sleeping place should be provided, and access to open air, sunshine with gentle exercise.

Where the legs are crooked, suitable splints and bandages should be applied.

Mr. J. G. Day, who has been the genial assistant of Mr. White during the building of the steel steamer, leaves for Montreal next week. Mr. Day has proved himself a capable official and has made himself a favorite with many friends who will regret his departure.

RAISE BETTER HORSES.

Fashion has brought about many changes in horse breeding among American farmers, and no race has set the new style more forcibly or to larger purpose than the American trotting horse. The American trotter is a horse capable of every service; there is almost literal truth, he is the best horse in which he can trot one mile, and his capacity of endurance, whereof such contests are most exciting, is almost unobserved, fact in the minds of all observant men, while his patient temper, and good size, combined with the extraordinary muscularity with which true systems of breeding have endowed him, render him an exceedingly valuable animal for any work of labor and routine.

The farmer who is looking forward to improvement in his stock, must be careful in making selection of his breeding animals, and herein it is of the utmost importance that the sire chosen be an available, valuable, and in every respect, a choice animal, possessing individually and ancestrally the best qualities which the offspring is desired to possess.

TOTTENHAM, ONT., MAY 31, 1887.

I have been troubled with nasal catarrh for the last five years. Seeing Nasal Balm advertised I procured a bottle, and although I have only used part of it, I do not hesitate to pronounce it the best remedy in the world for that loathsome disease, catarrh. It is easy and pleasant to use, soothing and healing in its action, instilling relief removes and changes the poisonous secretions to a healthy state, stops the croppings from the throat and relieves all the symptoms of catarrh and cold in the head. In fact if the directions are faithfully followed nothing but a sure and permanent cure can be the result.

Yours truly,

JNO. S. GEORGE.

THE CIBOLA.

All is finished, and at length has come the trial day. Of beauty and of strength. To-day the vessel will be launched!

"Such a beautiful day for the launch!" was the expression on everybody's lips on Tuesday morning. It was, indeed, a beautiful autumnal day, the sun shining brightly, the air clear and bracing. At an early hour of the morning, people began to arrive from all sections of the adjoining country. The Quinze, Varona, N. L. G. (Gibson), Deseronto, and many other vessels successfully arrived with large parties of excursionists from Belleville, Napanee, Picton, Trenton and many other places on the bay, and the streets, hotels, restaurants, shops, &c., were crowded all day long with visitors, all eagerly expectant of the approaching event which had brought them hither. Many put in their time visiting the mill and the chemical works, Terra Cotta works, and other industries of The Rathbun Company. The town itself was a holiday appearance, bunting being profusely displayed in all parts of the town and on the vessels in port, while the Cibola was gaily decorated with flags of all the nations.

At 12:30 p. m. the train from the west arrived with a special Pullman car attached containing a party of ladies and gentlemen from Toronto, including among others, Hon. Frank Smith, President; Barlow Cumberland, Vice-President; R. N. McBride, Treasurer; and John W. W. Rathbun, Niagara Navigation Company; W. J. McNeilly, R. St. John, Capt. Dick, Steamboat Inspection Department; J. H. Hargrave, J. W. A. Giesler, vessel owners; John Donaldson, J. Munroe, Customs Department; Gus Foy, Austin Smith, Fraser MacDonald, and Harold Parsons; Mrs. J. H. Hargrave, Mrs. J. W. A. Giesler, Mrs. A. E. Campbell, and Miss Constance Cumberland. The Toronto press was well represented by Messrs. Parkhurst, H. J. Leach, of The Mail, and J. W. Leach, of The World. The Hon. McKenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, also arrived by the fast train just in time to witness the launch.

After one o'clock the operation of launching the new vessel was commenced in the presence of several thousand spectators who occupied every spot of vantage in the vicinity. A platform had been erected at the bow of the vessel, and this was occupied by the Minister of Customs, Mr. W. W. Rathbun, Hon. Frank Smith, the visitors from Toronto and several others. The honor of christening the new steamer was conferred on Miss Constance Cumberland, of Toronto, who grasped in her hand a bottle of champagne suspended from the bow by a cord decorated with red, white and blue ribbons. Under the direction of Messrs. Lamothé and Evans, the various blocks and shores supporting the hull were split and removed, a slight tremor is perceptible, "she starts," she moves—she seems to lift the thrill of life along her keel." Miss Cumberland dashes the bottle against the bow, and Mr. H. Vallance immediately exposes to view a board with the name "Cibola" painted on it. With increasing speed the fine vessel glides down the ways into the water. The fire of the Quinze, amid the shouts and cheers of the assembled crowd, the waving of handkerchiefs by the ladies, and the noisy whistling of steamers and tug boats, mark the start of the launch. The new vessel looked well as she floated gracefully on the bay. The tug Rescue subsequently towed her to the dock where she was inspected by a multitude of visitors.

After the launch the Toronto visitors, the Minister of Customs and others were hospitably entertained by Mr. E. W. Rathbun. After partaking of a sumptuous luncheon at his residence, toasts were proposed, and a number of addresses were made by the different members of the party. Mr. Cumberland explained the names of the sister boats, "Chicora" was the old name of the eastern part of the United States, and means "land of flowers"; Cibola was the old name for western Florida, and means "land of the buffalo." The Minister of Customs, in a happy speech, expressed the hope that the event marked the initial step of iron ship building on lake waters. Several of the speakers hinted at the probability of other steel steamers being built at Deseronto in the not distant future. The afternoon was generally observed as a holiday, the streets gay with visitors, and the Rathbun Company Band turned out and played in their best style. The day passed off pleasantly in the vast crowd behaving in a creditable manner. The launch of the Cibola which took place under such favorable auspices, is an event of no ordinary importance in the history of Deseronto. It marks the beginning of a new epoch in the history of shipbuilding on the lake waters of Canada. That our flourishing town should be selected as the place for the construction of this fine vessel is due to Hon. Mr. Bowell, Minister of Customs, who, as a resident of the Bay of Quinte district, was well acquainted with the facilities which the shipyard and extensive works of the Rathbun Company afforded for the prosecution of such an undertaking. The Niagara Navigation Company have no reason to regret their decision to act on his suggestion, the selection having proved satisfactory and advantageous to all concerned.

The Cibola is a paddle steamship of the following dimensions:—extreme length over deck 228 ft. 6 in.; depth of hold, 11 ft.; breadth of beam, 28 ft. 6 in.; width over all, 51 feet; draught of water, 6 feet 6 inches. She is built throughout of Dalzell steel which is the best known to shipbuilders, every plate being warranted and having the manufacturer's trade mark stamped thereon. We may say a few words of information of the general public that the Dalzell steel can only be obtained from the manufacturer, Mr. Dalzell, of the Glasgow Works, Scotland. His model, which is specially designed for stability and speed, is the work of Mr. E. Morton, of Glasgow, the designer of some of the fastest steamers on the Clyde. In consequence of the great power to be exerted by her engines he has given great strength to the deck of the hull. The centre is a network of cellular divisions to form the foundation for the machinery. Five steel girders, three fore and three aft with six longitudinal braces extending throughout from stem to stern, three on each side, give enormous stiffness to the hull. At the gunwale a shell-plate 32 inches wide, 2 in. steel, secured to the frames by steel gussets, extends the whole way around the vessel, and diagonal braces of steel 1 foot wide cross and recross above the deck beams tying everything together. The deck is built with 3½ in. pine, supplied by the Rathbun Co., and is a fine piece of work. The rivets used are 2 in. best Lowmoor iron, same as used in high-class boilers, and the workmanship throughout is all that could be desired. The hull is divided into five compartments by water-tight bulkheads. The engines are the work of Messrs Rankin, Blackmore & Co., of Greenock, who make a specialty of fast engines for the celebrated Clyde passenger steamers. They are of the direct acting diagonal compound type, having two cylinders 47 inches diameter and 25 inches stroke. These cylinders weigh twelve tons each; experts state them to be the finest specimens of large engines that it has been their privilege to see. In designing these engines Messrs Rankin & Blackmore's effort was to make the machinery as light as possible consistent with ample strength, and to this end a pocket was substituted for the exhaust steam jacket around the high pressure cylinder, thus effecting a considerable saving of weight. The exhaust pipe from the low pressure cylinder led to a high pressure, also made of copper, as against the usual practice of cast iron, and the condenser itself is a cylindrical casting with light malleable iron doors, by which the condensed water is pumped out. The diagonal braces are usually of cast iron, but in this instance they are solid forged mild steel, riveted with 1½ in. bolts for attachment to the main frames. The connecting rods are of the double-jawed type fitted with gun metal bushes having extra large surfaces. The reversing is done by one of Brown's steam and hydraulic engines, of the latest design, working horizontally from the bed-plate of the main engines. There are two single acting air pumps with Kincherson's patent metallic valves, so arranged that the various buckets and plungers will serve to pump out the water from the condenser, the weights of the high and low pressure cylinders, and do away with the unpleasant and noisy action of so many paddle boats. Her running consumption of fuel will be about one and a quarter tons per hour. Her estimated speed will be about 21 miles an hour and her carrying capacity about 1,000. Mr. Webster, the chief engineer of the Niagara Navigation Company, has been in town some days attending to the placing of certain parts of the machinery necessary before launching, and this gentleman will from time to time watch the progress of the engineering work.

The paddle shafting is all forged of "double wrought" iron for extra strength. The paddle wheels are of the "feathering" description, similar to those on the Chicora, these latter having been the model which has led to their adoption on the recently built fast American paddle steamer, Scandinavia. The first week in January to come out and set up the engines, and Mr. Morton, the designer, has been in Canada, and is coming out to superintend the trial trips.

The designs for the cabin accommodation will give every comfort suggested by the experience of the past. The vessel will take the winter for their execution, so the steamer will be ready for her route early in May. She is the largest vessel of her kind ever built in Canada, and is a well known and stronger, for example, than the steamers which ply between Montreal and Quebec.

The construction of the vessel was entrusted by the owners, the Niagara Navigation Company, of Toronto, to Mr. W. C. White, ship-builder and boiler manufacturer, of Deseronto, Ontario, and well known in this department of trade for the last thirty years. Mr. White, who is a native of Scotland, came to this country in 1852. The first work in which he was engaged was the rebuilding of the steamer Iron Duke at Sorel. He afterwards started business on his own account and built all the iron steamers of the Niagara Navigation Company, with the exception of the Montreal, constructing also the boilers of these vessels. He subsequently started a shipyard in Montreal where he has charge of building one half of the famous Victoria bridge, having also enjoyed the honor of driving the last rivet with H. R. H. of the Province of Quebec. He has since concentrated his business in Montreal and has been engaged in many extensive undertakings. He built the steamer Portland for the Canadian Pacific Company, a steamer, 150 in length, for Mr. Cookburn, of Muskoka; and a composite side wheel steamer for Capt. Murphy, of Toronto. The Conqueror, built in Deseronto, he cut in two at Montreal brought through the canal and rebuilt at Port Dalhousie. He also cut in half three steamers for the C. P. R. Company, put in water tight bulkheads and brought them to Buffalo where they were put together for service on the upper lakes. The contract for building the new steamer, the Niagara Navigation Company three boilers for the Cibola, and is also constructing three large boilers for the corporation of Montreal. This biographical sketch of this well-known mechanic and contractor will serve to show that the work done on the new vessel must be of a superior character. All the work has been supervised in the interest of the owners by Mr. James R. Mansell, C. E., of England, a gentleman whose scientific training in many lands has fitted him for the position, to the duties of which he has addressed himself with careful and zealous devotion. All the shipyard work is being executed by Mr. Paul Lamothé, ship-builder of Montreal, who is in his own sphere in the first rank of shipbuilders. In testimony of Mr. Lamothé's abilities as a ship-builder, we may mention that he is at present building for the Dominion Government a very large and powerful tug boat, and is also acting as a specimen of the light craft of which he has acquired fame as a builder, we may mention the very handsome pleasure yacht built for the late Hon. J. A. Macdonald, by the order of Mr. Angus, President of the Bank of Montreal, and which is a perfectly beautiful and elegant family yacht. The saloon and joiner work will be carried out by Mr. DeBruy, of Montreal, who from a long experience has secured a high reputation in this branch of naval architecture. The cabins and saloons will be fitted and furnished with all the modern arrangements for comfort and convenience, and the Company will spare neither time nor money to render the general outfit of the vessel such as to excel all that have been built in this continent.

The work of construction was commenced in Deseronto on the 21st of May, in the Jubilee Year of our beloved sovereign Queen Victoria, and has been prosecuted almost uninterruptedly until the present hour. In this connection we may state that the work was greatly expedited by the splendid facilities afforded by the works of the Rathbun Company. The numerous wharves and railway sidings affording every opportunity for loading and unloading cargo, the proximity of the different factories to the shipyard, the improved machinery and appliances in the shipyard and machine shops, have wonderfully assisted in hastening the work. To Mr. Evans, superintendent of the Rathbun Company's shipyard, the contractors express their thanks for the valuable assistance and continued courtesies. His experience has been placed at their disposal, and in such matters as the speedy and economical handling and shaping of the wood material of the new vessel, the builders are indebted to him. To Mr. Evans, his assistants and his men, who have been under great obligations. To the people of this section of Ontario, Mr. Evans has been long known as a shipbuilder, capable and energetic in every sense of the term. It is but right to record the fact that the mechanics employed on the ship, including a number of French Canadians from Montreal, proved themselves skilful and industrious workmen, and have made themselves many friends in Deseronto.

The Niagara Navigation Company in building the Cibola, which is a sister ship to the well known "Chicora," intend placing her next summer on the same route between Toronto and Lawton. It is only a matter of justice to the owners of the "Chicora" to state that from the excellence of her arrangements, the strictest care on the part of her officers, combined with marvellous promptness in making her trips has secured her the position of "first favorite" in the eyes of the Toronto public. The success of the "Cibola" is the outcome of the great patronage bestowed on the "Chicora" by a discriminating public. If the new vessel proves as popular as the "Chicora," there is no doubt that the owners including such men as Hon. Frank Smith, and Messrs A. M. Smith, J. Foy, E. Cumberland, &c., will be considered to have rightly interpreted the public wants, and we only hope that they may be amply rewarded for their large investment of capital.

The placing of such a boat on the Niagara and Toronto route cannot but augment American travel in that direction. With the completion of the Murray canal affording a new route for passenger travel, giving tourists an opportunity of surveying the beautiful scenery of the bay of Quinte, thus rendering the trip from Niagara to Quebec one unbroken panorama of all that is beautiful in our country, travel by the "Chicora" is probable that the day is not far distant when floating palaces similar to the Cibola will daily call at the docks of Deseronto. May we not further also express the hope that Deseronto, already through the enterprise of the Rathbun Company the seat of so many industries, may yet become the centre at which yearly shall be built vessels like the Cibola whose every part shall be the product of Canadian skill and labor.

A farmer in Pennsylvania says he has discovered a remedy for the Canadian thistle. He says he has found a way to kill it and over with sawdust, which in a short time will completely destroy the plant.

GREAT SALE, Bankrupt Stock, —AT— Drewry's.

Special Silk Sale this week at Drewry's!

Silks we talk about this week. Thousands of yards of Silks to choose from. You are not compelled to make your selection of Silk Dresses from five or six pieces. We give you over 300 pieces to choose from. No dry-goods firm could sell 300 pieces of silks bought in the regular way in five years but when they are bought right they sell like Prints. Silks bought in this last bankrupt stock we want to talk about. The best wearing silk Dress you can buy is the Satin Merilleux. It is soft and pliable and won't crack, neither does it fray up like an ordinary Satin.

NOW THE PRICES:

Five hundred yds. Black Satin Merilleux worth $1.00, sale price 68c.

See them and you will be convinced it is the greatest bargain in Satin Merilleux you ever saw. Then at 75c we give you heavy Satin Merilleux that are sold all over at $1.25. At 60c, at 68c, at 75c, at 89c, at 95c, at $1.00, at $1.10, at $1.19 we show you Satin Merilleux and every line equally as cheap. At $1.19 we show you Satin Merilleux that is worth $2.00 a yard regular price. We buy right and that enables us to sell right.

Black Satin at 50c worth $1.00. Golden Brown and Dark Brown Satin at 50c worth $1.00. That means they were bought at 50c on the dollar. Satin Merilleux in Grenat, Garnet, Brown, Bronze, Navy, Golden Brown just opened in this stock.

Satins at 25 cents.

Cardinal, Blue, Pale Blue, Pink, Cream, White, only 25 cents.

Black Gros Grain Silks at 50c.

Guaranteed pure Silk. Soft and pliable Black Silks that will wear, worth 75c only 50c at Drewry's. Heavy Gros Grain Black Silks 26 inches wide (that is very wide width) only 75c, worth $1.50 per yard! At 95c we show you a Black Silk that will surprise you. At $1.15 we show you Black Silk that is usually sold from $2.00 to $2.25 per yard. Ask to see it when you are in.

Black Ottoman Cord Mantle Silks, Black Tricotine Silks, the newest make of Silk Goods. It is knit like Jersey Cloth, just opened, $1.00 per yard under price.

Martin Smith had a tie hook drawn through his hand while working at the Cedar Mill yesterday.

Mr. B. H. Carr is, we are glad to state, again convalescent after a severe illness which lasted ten weeks. He was attended by Dr. Vandervoort.

A lady on her way to market yesterday morning lost a fur coat. Anyone finding the same will confer a favour by leaving it at The Tribune office.

The representatives of the press, and the Tribune especially have been placed under great obligations during the past few days to Mr. Howell, of the shipyard office, for valuable information kindly communicated.

The Grand Trunk intend laying another track between Napanee and Deseronto Junction. This will be a great advantage to the N. T. & Q. and R. Q. Ry., as it will be a connecting link between the two systems.

A great many of the visitors as well as residents of the town missed the launch. There was an impression abroad that the launch would not take place until nearly three o'clock. No information could be obtained of the exact hour.

Mrs. A. E. Grassy, St. George street, has an Arising which has 213 buds, nearly all of which are in full bloom. It is pronounced by all visitors as by far the finest plant of the kind they have ever seen.

A large delegation of the members of Craig Lodge, A. F. and A. M., drove down to Napanee last Friday evening and paid a fraternal visit to the brethren of the mystic tie in that town. They spent a most enjoyable evening.

Two Italian 'image' men favoured the town with a visit last week. We observed in the Belleville papers that these gentry are suspected of passing counterfeit money on their unsuspecting patrons. Look out for them in future.

Mr. Wm. O'Brien, M. P., amid scenes of great excitement has been safely lodged in Cork gaol for three months. It is not the first time that a good man has suffered imprisonment where engaged in fighting for a righteous cause.

The ladies will find something very interesting in the advt. of Robinson & Co., Napanee. This firm are securing a large share of the patronage of the ladies of this district. Their large stock affords opportunities of selection not found in those shops which still adhere to the old fashioned, hole-in-the-corner style of doing business.

The exodus from the lower provinces to the United States assuming colossal proportions this season. It is said to be a pitiful sight to watch the crowds of young people leaving each railway station to seek for work in a new land. Now it is only from Quebec and the maritime provinces that this mournful procession proceeds. Ontario and Manitoba are furnishing their quota. Where is the statesman who can devise a remedy for this growing evil?

A. D. Post, a young man employed in the Cedar Mill, was the victim of a distressing accident on Wednesday evening. He was working at the edger, and reached over the conveyor to get a stick, when his sleeve was caught by the teeth of the roller and his arm was drawn in. He ran from the shoulder to the elbow was fearfully lacerated, the muscles and bones being lacerated and injured. Dr. Newton attended to him and dressed the arm putting in no less than forty stitches. The young man showed great bravery, never flinching during the painful operation.

Mr. John Prickett, foreman of the blacksmith shop, met with a serious accident on Monday, a piece of steel from a hammer in the hand of an assistant flying off with great force striking him in the eye. He has been unable to see out of the eye since and it is feared he may be the worse for it all the day. He went to Toronto on Wednesday to consult Dr. Reeves, a distinguished oculist of that city.

The Big Store 50c tea is incomparably the best value in this country; do not hesitate, but place your order at once, as under all circumstances they guarantee the quality to please consumers. The Big Store is headquarters for tea in every sense of the word.

Mrs. A. A. Richardson and Mrs. James Dryden performed the greatest feat in tickle-rolling ever accomplished in Deseronto. It is unnecessary to say that it was in the interest of Mrs. Douglas' Social. They sold seventy tickets in two hours, and 130 in one day.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company have decided to test the new system of heating the cars direct from the locomotive, abolishing the stoves which have been so disastrous to wrecked trains. A single valve in the centre of each car regulates the degree of heat. The pipes are also so arranged for the drainage of condensed steam to prevent freezing.

Mr. R. H. Baker has again loaded the Folger with barley for Oswego. He has Mr. R. M. Jack engaged buying barley in large quantities in the neighboring county of Prince Edward. Barley has been coming quite freely under the impulse given by better prices.

On Thursday of last week an unprotected woman was set upon by two vicious while on her way to her home on the Reserve, and out of revenge, these apologies for men blackened the poor woman's eye and kicked her badly. One of these rascals works in town and lives in or near Deseronto. It is a disgrace that these blackguards should go unpunished of justice. A coat of tar and feathers might be applied to these scamps to great advantage.

Mr. James Butler, in his capacity as bandman, was invited to Pictou to attend the funeral of Mr. John Burmore, an old pensioner of the town, who was buried with military honors on Sunday last. All the volunteer militia turned out to pay the tribute to the dead, and the old soldier's bands played funeral marches, and the militia fired volleys over the grave of the departed hero. The proceedings lasted three hours.

Mr. W. G. Egar, President of S. Mark's Guild, is giving an Oyster Supper and Social in aid of that organization. He has fixed the date for Friday evening, 11th inst., and the place S. Mark's Hall. As the President is a very popular fellow, and as in addition the members of the Guild are exerting themselves to provide a programme worthy of the occasion, there will, we are sure, be a great rush to enjoy the many pleasures of the evening. Tickets 25 cts.

Mr. Donald Anderson, of Melrose, honoured our Sanctum with a visit on Tuesday. Mr. Anderson came to the country in 1850 and was for eighteen years a member of the County Council. While in the Council he was entrusted with the petition for the incorporation of Mill Point as a village, measure which he carried through successfully. He has witnessed great changes in the place since the time when it was only known as Culbertson's dock.

The parable of the Prodigal Son illustrated in Song drew a large number to the Church of the Redeemer on Sunday evening. The familiar hymns sent home to the heart the truths of the parable; and from the earnest attention of the parish singing of the congregation—acclaiming the lord of the strong choir, we have no doubt that such a service is appreciated, and the good seed of the gospel sown must bear its fruit in due time. Another song service will be held in four weeks.

The rector in charge and the parishioners of Ernestown intend to hold, some time in Nov. next, a service, commemorative of the formation of the parish by the Rev. John Langhorn 100 years ago this year. All the clergy of the bay will be invited to take part in the celebration. Mr. Langhorn arrived in Kingston, then called Cataraqui, on Sunday, the 30th of Sept., 1787, and proceeded early in the same week to Ernestown.

HOUSEHOLD.

THE CHEERFUL FARM KITCHEN.

A spacious farm kitchen, when there's a clean and loving mother presiding over it, is about as pleasant as any spot on earth. The great stove with its cheerfully glowing kettle, the smooth polished floor, the braided rug for mother's feet, the dear little squeaking rocking chair in which she sits and sews, the geraniums and petunias and other eye-catching plants in the windows, the big long table with plenty of room for everybody and some to spare—on which are served such meals as only "mother" can prepare. Ah! we are sorry for the poor child that does not get a life spent in such a room. It is to this big, pleasant-atmosphere kitchen that the children can look for comfort and pleasure in this growing November and weather. There is school, to be sure, but night sits in almost as soon as school closes, and in the hours between four o'clock and bedtime something must be done for the child whose natural, healthful cry is for "something to do."

HOW TO MAKE GOOD APPLE BUTTER.

The first step is to boil down the cider. If there is no set caldron, large kettles are hung upon an extemporized wooden crane in these, new cider is concentrated by boiling. For the best results, a barrel of cider is boiled down to eight gallons. While the cider is being boiled, other prepare the apples, by paring and coring them, and removing the cores. Good sweet apples, those which will readily cook tender when cooked in water, are the best to choose. Two and a half to three bushels of apples are required for the barrel of cider, after it has been concentrated, and the stirring, with a wooden stirrer (hickory preferred), must be continued to prevent scorching. The thick jelly like consistency shows when the boiling is sufficient. When the sauce is covered with a fine, many add cinnamon and allspice. The sauce is to be transferred, while yet hot, to the vessel in which it is to be kept; these should be wooden kegs or barrels, or stone ware jars. Apple butter is sometimes made without cider, using molasses and water instead. When properly made it is a most excellent preservative, and very much healthful than that which is cloying from an excess of sugar.—[American Agriculturist.

BOILING VEGETABLES.

Onions, medium size one hour.
Green corn, twenty to twenty-five minutes.
Peas and asparagus, thirty to twenty-five minutes.
Potatoes, half an hour, unless small, when rather less.
Cabbage and cauliflower, twenty-five minutes to half an hour.
Carrots and turnips, forty-five minutes when young, one hour in winter.
Beets, one hour in summer, one hour and a half or even two hours, if large, in winter.
String beans, if slit or sliced slantwise and thin, twenty-five minutes; if only nipped across, forty minutes.

Rule.—All vegetables to go into salt boiling water, to keep the water from boiling point again, not left to steep in the water before boiling, which toughens them and destroys color and flavor.

The time table must always be regulated by the hour at which the meals will be done. If the meat should have to wait five minutes for the vegetables, there would be a loss of punctuality, and the vegetables would be damaged. But if your vegetables are done, and wait for the meat, your dinner will certainly be much the worse; yet so general is the custom of waiting for the meat, or putting them to cook in a haphazard way, somewhere about the time, that very many people would not recognize the damage. They would rather put their trust in the superiority of vegetable cooked at just the right time, but would attribute it to some superiority of the article itself, that they were fresher and finer, not knowing that the best and freshest of vegetables improperly cooked are little better than the poor ones.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

To wash oil cloth use milk and water. Soap injures the texture and the colors. Use a quart of skim milk to a pail of water. Salt sprinkled on a carpet, and swept off, it is said, brightens the colors. Sometimes a cloth mottled in salt water is used to wipe off the carpet after sweeping.

A HOUSEKEEPER'S FRIEND.—A large wax bag to a housekeeper is a dead full of pigeonholes to the business man. It is a large piece of strong gray drilling, with a dozen pockets sewed on, on each pocket is written in plain letters with ink the contents; for instance buttons, tapes, ribbons, braids, curtain rings, etc., and almost not as all folded.

THE SHIRKING OF FLANNEL.—To keep flannels as soft as possible from shrinking and felting, the following is to be recommended: Dissolve one ounce of potash in a bucket of water, and leave the fabric in it for twelve hours. Next warm the water with the fabric in it, and wash without rubbing, also draw through repeatedly. Next immerse the flannel in another liquid containing one teaspoonful of what flour to one bucket of water, and wash in the same manner. Thus treated the flannel becomes nice and clean, has barely shrunk, and almost not as all folded.

TO CLEAN WHITE SILK LACE.—The lace is sewn over small clean strips of wood to keep it evenly spread out, laid over in warm milk, to which a little soap has been added, rinsed in cold water, and then the same length of time in warm soap suds, and finally rinsed without any friction. Linen lace is best cleaned by covering the outside of a large glass bottle smoothly with soap, and then dipping in rice water, and rolled gently. Finally, the damp lace is unfasted from the bottle and ironed between linen cloths.

When Her Majesty ascended the throne the production of that year in Great Britain was estimated at 35,000,000 tons, now it is more than four times as much.

ODDS AND ENDS.

In Russia 255,000 persons are engaged in the tobacco industry.
The consumption of petroleum by England in 1886 was about 2,250,000 barrels.
There are in Boston between 800 and 900 negroes, and in London over a million of the British Crown.

From twenty-five to forty car loads of grapes and pears have been sent to the East.
It is said that Russia will have 64,000,000 bushels of wheat for export this year, an increase of 16,000,000 bushels over last year.
The women of Russia do all the harvesting; the grain is cut with sickles, as it was 3,000 years ago, and is threshed with a flail.
A restaurant has been opened in London for the exclusive patronage of people who are afflicted with colic, the food being entirely anti-fat.
The buyer of a large Cincinnati tobacco house, who is said $10,000 a year to know good tobacco when he sees it, neither smokes nor chews.

The art of paper making has reached a point where a tree may be cut down, made into paper, and turned out as a newspaper in thirty-six hours.

At Kitzbühel, in the Austrian Alps, there is an intermittent lake which at one season of the year is filled with water, at another is dried up and cultivated by the farmers of the exclusive patronage of people who are afflicted with colic, the food being entirely anti-fat.

Alaska's Atmosphere.
Lieutenant Schwatka, in making the inland passage to Alaska, at one point went about among the mountains of the Archipelago, and he describes the vegetation which he encountered as being most remarkable. At the foot of the evergreens clothing the land, grew a dense mass of tangled bushes and vines, and at the roots of these was a carpet of mosses, lichens and ferns, which often ran up the trees to a height greater than a man's reach.
At this season growth is as moist as a sponge. The thick carpeting of moss extends from the shore to the edges of the glaciers on the mountain summits, and the constant melting of ice thence down the glacier keeps it saturated with water. The air is burdened with moisture, and everything is, like Mr. Mantalini's proposed body, "moist and unpleasant."

It is almost impossible to realize the dampness of this region, without having experienced it. Water drips from overhead, like an April rain, and oozes up beneath the feet, as one walks.
As an example of the luxuriance of the vegetation, take the Indian's "totem-poles," which, although they are dead timbers standing on end near the native houses, bear huge clumps of dripping moss, and are high enough to vary from ten to thirty feet from the ground.
It will be well to explain, in passing, that these totem-poles are covered with very curious carvings of animals, and are all sure of their significance, it is probable that they represent genealogies, or tribal histories of the Indians.

It often happens that the seed of a Sitka spruce becomes lodged in the tangle of moss resting upon a totem-pole, and there germinates, and the roots crawl down the pole, and having reached the earth, they send out the branches flourishing above, and which have tried and are kept by the juices flowing from the moss.
Imagine a city boy toasting a walnut from his window, so that it lodges upon a totem-pole, and he would have the same result. The roots to the earth, and waxes into that tall tree that the boy can lean from his window, and pick walnuts from it every autumn.
That idea is incredible, and yet its equivalent often happens in south-eastern Alaska.

No Danger.

A man who boasts of his courage while his knees are smiting together cuts a ridiculous figure, and is a fair subject for jokes. A traveler in the United States fell in with such a one in the midst of a thunder-storm. According to the narrative, the lightning might have been caused for feeling a little timorous; only, in that case, it would have been well not to brag.

When a man is entered was occupied by a widow and her two daughters. As soon as he had alighted, the curate of the village, curious to see the foreign travelers, hastened to pay a visit to the ladies; and now, while heavy strokes of lightning fell in every direction on the trees of the forest, the trembling women looked to the priest for consolation and the young friend availed himself of the opportunity of showing his superior information.

"When I was a boy," he said, "I, too, was afraid of thunder and lightning; but since that time I have studied philosophy and I am now a philosopher. I have learned that the heavenly bodies are too high up to fall down upon us." Another clasp—Jean Orloff, major's post.
The next stroke drove the trembling pair into a dark room, where the women lay in their refuge, and as long as the storm lasted they kept their eyes shut. "Ora pro nobis!" but scarcely had it passed away, when the philosophical curate entered, and said to the ladies, "I am followed by the widow and her daughters."
"Juan," he called to a boy who was passing by, "go quickly to my mother and tell her she need not be frightened, there is no danger at all."

Buffalo William makes no secret of his intense desire to raise the wild Indian war whoop and break glass balls within the walls of the famous city of Rome, or at least much of it remains. If this be carried out it will be a strange illustration of Canada, which is now in the New World to redress the grievances of the Old—painted Indians carrying round an arena sacred to memories of the greatest empire of the past, the king of the conquerors, and the ground which elsewhere received the blood of martyrs, and "American ice cream" hawked round the galleries where emperors and tribes have sat.

FARM.

WINTER CARE OF COWS.

The arrangement of the barn and yard should be made so that the labor as much as possible. Excessive warmth is not conducive to robustness, health or profit. If the cow is crowded into a small space with stoves to a temperature of eighty degrees, and his food and drink are all warm, the result will be a loss of the effects of the cold and to insure more comfort, the dwellers in that house will become more robust, healthy and profitable. The blood; the warmth will relax the skin, dry it and open the pores, and the slightest draft will cut it shivering and induce dangerous colds. It is in precisely such houses that colds, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and other diseases are so frequent, while in the barn where the windows are thrown open to the breeze, and the cold, brisk, pure air is welcomed, and exercise and health give warmth, fed by the abundant oxygen of the fresh air coming through the blood, there are health and vigor and soundness. It is the same in the dairy. Pneumonia invades those herds which are kept in close, warm, unwholesome stables, and the deadly tuberculosis finds its prey; while from the wide airy stables well ventilated and filled with pure cold air, the well fed cows will emerge to frolic in the sun, and the milk will be of a fine quality and the crisp air, when the thermometer marks down nearly to zero. Excessive warmth, however, is not to be feared, and the farmer should not be too fastidious in the yard, picking some rough feed and getting water and exercise.—[American Agriculturist.

HOW TO MAKE A GOOD CISTERN.

The surface soil is removed to a depth of eighteen inches to two feet, and the earth and heat in the summer. The excavation is made in the shape of an egg with the upper part wide and the lower part narrow, ten feet deep, and seven to ten feet in diameter. The deeper the cistern, the better and cheaper it is. If the soil is close and compact, the cement is laid directly upon it, and no brick lining is required. To do this a large flat stone is bedded in cement at the bottom, for the women to stand upon, and the sides are lined with brick or stone. The water-line, one part, and clean, sharp sand, three parts, mixed dry, first, and wetted in the morning, the cement is laid upon it, and can be used before it sets hard. The cement is laid about an inch thick. When the bottom is covered, a layer is put in around the wall about six inches high, and as it sets very quickly, as soon as one strip is laid another may be put on above it, until the whole is completed. In digging, a shoulder of a foot in width is made on the top of the firm soil eighteen inches, to rest the beams upon. This is also covered with cement, and the beams are laid upon it, and the beams are filled with stone, or brick, and cement, to the upper level, which the floor rests. A strong floor of the system is made, and the floor is broken, is laid upon the beams and covered with a coat of cement, to exclude surface water; and this floor is then covered with a layer of brick or stone, and the floor is built over it to stand upon. A manhole should be made in the cover, large enough for a person to go down when it is necessary to dig, and the cover should be made up a little above the platform, and fitted with a tight cover, kept locked to avoid danger of children falling in.

WINTER CARE OF FOWLS.

It is a great mistake to crowd too many fowls together in one apartment. A house of twelve fowls, with a little extra space additional, will not accommodate over one dozen fowls. Board floors are better than earth. Board floors are always dry, and are kept clean and sweet. An application of slaked lime on the boards is worth a dozen on the ground. If more fowls are kept, the less disinfectants and remedies would be needed.

What breeds of fowls are the best winter layers? All the hens that moult early, and that lay well in winter. Feed at noon a sprinkling of parched corn, oats, or wheat, and at night all they will eat of entire grain of any of the above. Never give more at any time than they can eat. Oyster shells are good for shell matter.

PROVIDE SUFFICIENT WATER TROUGHS.

In arranging for the water supply for the stock, a sufficiency of water troughs should be provided, and as many as will give ample opportunities for all the cows to drink without contention from the master cows of the herd. Four troughs are not too many for twelve or fifteen cows, and these should be scattered widely apart, or as best protected that one ill-natured animal may keep guard over them all. An excellent arrangement is to have an octagonal frame with a trough on each side, and a small stream of water, so that every cow may have a chance to get to the water.

The troughs should be covered with a board, and the water should be kept from freezing in the winter; and some provision should be made to empty the troughs to prevent the accumulation of ice at the bottom. When this is practicable, a constant flow of water in the troughs in the summer is desirable, and for this purpose, where there is a running stream, a small dam may be used, or a windmill with a reservoir of sufficient capacity to supply all the requirements, both of the cattle and the dairy work.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR MANURE MAKING.

To preserve a healthful condition, manure should be made in a proper place, and proper care, through cording and brushing should not be neglected in a winter of dry, and a manure pile in every stable should be observed. Abundant supplies of absorbents, of which dried swamp mud is the best, and hard wood sawdust and straw, or any other fine waste material should be procured. The winter dairy is a good time to make manure, and the improvement of a farm, and to this end every possible economy in saving and preserving the manure should be exercised. The feeding must be liberal and of the best food. It must be regular in quantity, quality and time; because out of the food the butter must come, and in quality and quantity will be exactly equal to the food given.—[American Agriculturist for November.

Women in the Past.

Girls who consider their advantages inferior to those of their brothers have only to turn back a few pages of history, in order to extract a very different contrast of a most ancient past with a brilliant present. There was a time, scarcely to be understood in this age, when women were little more than a slave and ornamental appendage. During the Middle Ages and a following period, no one would have dreamed of doubting her inferiority.

In the seventeenth century "woman was still regarded as the inferior of man; in the lower classes as a drudge, in the higher as an ornament."

Montaigne was one of those "who, through false gallantry, would keep woman in a state of ignorance, on the pretext that instruction would mar her natural charms." The same author recommends poetry to women because it is a delicate and dignified art for all pleasure, all for show, just as they are.

John Stuart Mill, in sarcastic reference to this time, thus characterizes it: "Some generations ago, when satires on women were in vogue, it was considered a disgraceful thing to insult women for being what men made them."

Under such conditions, it can scarcely be a subject of wonder that women did not attain their highest development. They may well have deserved some of the prevalent medieval prejudices, of which the following are specimens:
"Women and horses must be beaten."
"Women and money are the cause of all evil."
"Women keep only secrets which they do not know."
"Husbands and women's eyes and no there isn't room for the point of a needle."

Sensations at High Altitudes.

The effects of the rarity of the atmosphere were felt as soon as the start was made, and it was impossible to proceed more than a few yards without stopping for breath. The ascent was made in zig-zags, and naturally a rest was taken at the end of each direct line. At the start, to climb for eight miles, we were so completely exhausted, making very good time. It was not long before a rest of eight minutes was required for every four of climbing, and after half the ascent was made, we rested more frequently and without exerting ourselves to sit down. We thrust four staves into the snow, and drove up the mountain, and progress became mechanical.

We moved only as spurred on by our ever-watchful guides. If left to ourselves, we would have advanced with air, but with fearful rapidity, and the breath became shorter and shorter. Ringing sensations in the head, like those produced by large doses of quinine, were experienced. The most acute pains shot through the skull. Conversation was suspended, except among the guides, and their voices fell on our ears as if from a great distance. It was impossible to tell what progress was being made, for the top and bottom seemed equally high, and we barely kept our feet. The most severe experience likely to occur to those who reach that high elevation: bleeding at the nose, mouth and ears. It would have been a very serious matter, had we not far, that heart and lungs refuse to submit further, and we should have placed ourselves in the hands of our guides to be carried back to the valley.

Our physical endurance was stretched almost to its limit by the time the head guide shouted, "Here we are! Small the sulphur!" The whiff of sulphuric smoke, which greeted our nostrils, telling that our task was nearly completed and rest was at hand, acted like a powerful stimulant. We awoke for a final effort, pressed on and rested not until we stood breathless upon the summit of Popocatepetl.

He Knew Where to Stop.

On one occasion the Emperor of Germany visited the Krupp steel works at Essen, and was shown over the immense establishment by the manager, who was the Vienna Free Press gives an account of the visit:
The emperor displayed great interest in the appliances and machinery, and Herr Krupp took the opportunity of speaking in high praise of the workman who had special charge of it.

"Let me have a sure eye," he said, "and can stop the falling hammer at any moment. A hand might be placed on the anvil without fear, and he would stop the hammer within his reach of it."
"Let us try," said the emperor, "but not with a human hand—try my watch," and he laid it, a splendid specimen of work richly set with brilliants, on the anvil. Down came the immense mass of steel, and Ackermann, with his hand on the lever, stopped it just the sixth of an inch from the watch. When he went to hand it back the emperor replied kindly:

"No, Ackermann, keep the watch in memory of an interesting moment."
The workman, embarrassed, stood with outstretched hand, not knowing what to do. Krupp came forward and took the watch, saying:

"I'll keep it for you if you are afraid to take it at the moment."
A few minutes later they again passed the spot, and Krupp said:

"Now you can take the emperor's present from my hand," and handed Ackermann the watch, wrapped up in a 1000-mark note.

Trees With a History.

A buttonwood tree supposed to be 150 years old was recently felled at Burlington, N. J.; it was twenty feet in circumference. A silver birch, in a similar circumstance, in Middletown, Ill., was grown from a twig which a traveler struck into the ground while passing through in 1816.
The first and oldest of the buckeye of Arkansas is death to cattle. Indians find with it tied in a bag, which they drag through the water, and in an hour the fish rise to the surface and die.
The remains of what was probably the largest tree of the continent may be seen six miles from Oakville, W. T. The hollow shaft stands fifty feet high and is seventy-three feet in circumference two and a half feet from the ground.

HEALTH.

INVALID DIET.

Nothing is more trying to a sick person than to be asked whether he thinks such and such a thing "would be nice," or whether he could enjoy it. It is very easy to say, "Yes, I like it," if it would be impossible for him to like anything. We give below details that it rightly prepared will be apt to tempt a sick appetite.

VEAL AND SAGO BROTH.

For a person suffering with any pulmonary disease, this is excellent. Boil, with three parts of cold water, a knuckle of veal weighing two pounds and well cracked, and simmer in a closely covered vessel for two hours, strain the soup and skin off the fat, if any, season to taste; add two tablespoonfuls of pearl barley, previously soaked in warm water for an hour, and simmer the soup for half an hour. Meantime heat a cup of cream to boiling and add very slowly, to prevent curdling; turn this into the soup, let it come almost to the boiling point, and serve. Let this water crackers, or the thinnest slices of buttered bread, from which the crust has been removed, accompany this. Put it in your prettiest bowl, and be sure that it is very hot. Half-cold soup is disgusting to a patient.

PILET OF CHICKEN.

Reduce a quart of chicken broth to less than half the quantity by slow simmering, strain it through a cloth, and stand where you broil a neat fillet from the breast of a tender chicken. Season this with salt, pepper, and a little oil, and the mould of reduced broth, which must be set on ice until it hardens. Turn out on a small oval dish and decorate with parsley.

Rabbit soup, of which the following are specimens:
"Women and horses must be beaten."
"Women and money are the cause of all evil."
"Women keep only secrets which they do not know."
"Husbands and women's eyes and no there isn't room for the point of a needle."

A delicious diet for a convalescent is made as follows: Soak a tablespoonful of gelatin in a cup of water; let it stand for an hour and pour on a cup of boiling water; add a tablespoonful of currant jelly and as much sugar, the least pinch of salt, add a little cinnamon. When it cools stir in a tin cup of cream and a very small wine-glass of sherry. In case of diarrhoea, substitute brandy for the wine.

PIMPLES.

When there is an impurity of the blood, or the system is in a weak state, attempts to throw it to the surface in the form of eruptions, rashes, etc. All kinds of rich food, those containing lard and oily matter, will tend to increase the impurity, will corrupt the blood, while breathing foul gases or air, such as are so often found in sleeping rooms, will render the blood impure. It is the promise of pure air to purify the blood. While only pure food, such as the grains, fruits, and the best of the little cinema, can maintain the purity of pure blood. Only the purest, unobscured air, can best purify this air that has passed through the round of circulation.

It is proper to say that all animal foods may be impure in consequence of the diseases of the animals, while their flesh, made from day to day, with every care, will be pure, the older being dead and dying particles, constantly passing from the system and giving place to new and comparatively pure, therefore, who would have the purest blood will do well to be careful in the selection of meats, always discarding such excretory or little cinema. When it cools stir in a tin cup of cream and a very small wine-glass of sherry. In case of diarrhoea, substitute brandy for the wine.

Since these pimples are one of the means of purifying the blood, do not attempt to cure them by preventing any discharge from them, at least, till the blood is so far purified that they will no longer come out, but rather aid nature in this work, bringing still more to the surface, which you can do by producing an irritation such as results from the application of a strong ointment to a surface where you wish, sprinkling on a coating of capsicum, cayenne pepper, or mustard.

Absent Minded.

One of the professors in a leading New England college is noted for his forgetfulness of names and faces. The students say that on one occasion the professor's own son, a student, applied to his father for permission to go out of town. Leave was granted, and as the young man turned to go the professor opened his class-book and said, "Name, please." A London paper tells of a worthy German who was even more forgetful:

An amusing incident illustrative of absent-mindedness is narrated of the last session of the German Reichstag. Herr Wichmann was calling the roll of members, when, upon reading out his own name, he asked the name of the member who had just spoken, and the second time, in a louder tone, and finally roared it out like a healthy lunged bull. The first time the speaker, a German, whose colleagues showed there must be something wrong, and soon realizing the ludicrous situation he joined in the hilarity and marked himself present.

Exercise Enough for Him.

A gentleman who made the passage from England to America in the days before steamships were run drew out a perfectly characteristic observation from an Irish fisherman passenger. The voyage was long and tiresome, he used to walk the deck with an appearance of restlessness, while the Irishman would stretch himself out on a bench, and lie all day with his eyes fixed on the mast as if it were a book.

"Ton my conscience Mr. B.—" he exclaimed one day, "I wonder you don't walk out your legs!"

"Why," was the reply, "when a man has but a sprain of two legs, and a turn of turn in, he can scarcely take too much exercise."
"But where's the need of exercise?"

"Yes. Doesn't the captain say the ship is carrying us two hundred miles a day? Surely that's exercise enough."

The Belleville Ontario tells of a brutal fight which occurred at a dance held at John Caiden's in the 8th concession of Tyndinaga. Liquor was freely drunk and the result was a rough and tumble fight of the most sickening description. The contestants fought like bulldogs and committed acts of cannibalism which will disgrace one or two of the men for life. One of the Alfords, who was sitting on a chair drunk, got a bad thrashing, being kicked black and blue. One of the Jordans had his cheek chewed into mince meat, while one of the Goodfellowes suffered a like penalty. The whole affair made a capital temperance lecture.

The Thanksgiving Collection will be for the benefit of the two congregations. Seats are entirely free, everybody is welcome. "Let us give thanks."

We have received a copy of the List of Shipping of the Dominion of Canada for 1886, issued by the Department of Marine and Fisheries. The total number of vessels on the Register books of the Dominion for that year was 7,294, measuring 1,217,766 tons, making Canada stand fifth as regards registered shipping among the nations of the world. Great Britain has a tonnage of 8,553,358; United States, 2,407,707; Germany, 1,481,382; France, 1,281,560. There is a decrease of 21 vessels and 14,090 tons as compared with the list of 1885. The increase in shipbuilding in Canada since 1874 has been very great. In that year the number of new ships built in the Dominion was 496, having an aggregate tonnage of 190,756. Last year the number was 229, with a tonnage of 22,307. The number of steamers in the list is 1,098 with a tonnage of 257,818. The total tonnage of the different provinces is as follows:—New Brunswick, 289,224; Nova Scotia, 226,921; Quebec, 252,170; Ontario, 140,929; Prince Edward Island, 30,658; British Columbia, 11,900; Manitoba, 5,578. Among the ports St. John, N.B., leads the way having 615 vessels measuring 216,280; Montreal, 127,686; Windsor, N.S., 124,035; Yarmouth, N.S., 123,729; Quebec, 10,251; Halifax, 10,251; Maitland, N.S., 41,280; Pictou, N.S., 31,746; Charlottetown, P.E.I., 30,658. Coming to Ontario, Kingston stands first, its tonnage being 26,306; St. Catharines, 25,043; Ottawa, 19,072; Toronto, 12,175; Hamilton, 7,168; Windsor, 7,046. Napanee is put down for 2,770 tons; Pictou, 4,165; Belleville, 907; and Deseronto, only recently made a port of registry, 515.

Mr. G. E. Clement has secured another contract from the Isthmian Company for the erection on north Mill street of a dwelling house 20x26 ft. and 16 ft. post.

We desire to thank Mr. W. C. Archer for Vancouver, B. C. papers. Mr. Archer is now a resident of that ambitious city of the west, and holds a responsible position in the Hudson Bay Company's service.

A resident of this town decamped a few months ago deserting his wife. Another resident, pitying her forlorn condition, has it said, taken her in, ejecting his own wife and children. Such hospitality deserves a rich coat of tar and feathers.

Wm. McConville, of Kingston, was killed on Friday, Oct. 7th, by a runaway horse on the Napanee road, near the train of the B. of Q. Ry. He remained unconscious for some time, gradually recovered and was little the worse of his injuries.

Hon. Senator Flinn will apply to parliament for a charter to build a line of railway from Belleville up the Moine river to the north. With this railway connection and a bridge across the bay, Belleville will again assert her supremacy among the cities of Eastern Ontario.

The funeral of Mr. Asa Oliver, a well-known resident of this district, took place yesterday, and despite the bad weather was numerously attended. Funeral services were held at St. Mark's Church, Rural Dean Stanton officiating. The remains were subsequently removed to Huffman's cemetery.

On Sunday last Hattie A. Vanastine, aged 42 years, died in Pictou. This lady was the daughter of the late Allan Vanastine, of Pictou, and was, it is said, the only living relative of Major Vanastine, who bore the family name. Major Vanastine was the original founder of the Adolphus town settlement.

A gentleman asks us to direct the attention of our musical friends to the lack of national patriotic music and songs noticeable at all our concerts and assemblies. The public appreciate pieces which appeal to the national sentiment. At present the only thing of that character is the national anthem which suffers a tragic fate at the end of each performance.

The old tickets of membership for the Mechanics Institute expired on the 1st inst. The directors are canvassing for new members and are meeting with great success. This is gratifying intelligence. New books will be purchased for the library. The reading room is supplied with all the leading dailies and periodicals, as well as a large number of weekly papers from the district. There is every inducement held out for members.

The Young Peoples' Association of the Church of the Redeemer held their regular meeting last Friday evening. There was a good attendance. Mr. Wm. Macleod, V.P., delivered his inaugural address. Dr. Allen and Wm. Deane gave readings. Mr. & Mrs. Craig rendered a musical selection in excellent style. Matters of business were discussed and 31 members were added. The association have rented a piano for the winter and are entering on their work with much ardor. Mr. & Mrs. Craig have kindly opened the house for the next meeting of the association, next Friday, 18th inst.

Advice to Mothers:—Are you distressed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers: there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the stomach, soothes the bowels, Wind Colic softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

Their usual good fortune rewarded the efforts of the Isthmian Company Band on the occasion of their concert on the evening of Thursday, 3rd inst. There was an excellent house and the performers were loudly applauded. Councillor Richardson made an excellent chairman. After a well rendered selection by the band, Miss Lizzie Anderson gave a vocal solo with her usual good taste. Messrs. Fowkes and Walker gave "The Old Brigade," followed by a cornet solo and organ accompaniment by Prof. Crooks and Miss Walker, who, as before, were loudly cheered. "McGinns with his Tricky Mule" by C. A. Snider and H. Parks was the piece de resistance of the evening, and brought down the house. Vocal solos by Messrs. J. Black, C. London and C. A. Snider were well sung and followed by a side splitting farce in which J. Black, H. Miller, and W. Stuart played their parts well. After a slight intermission part second was entered upon. The Band then executed a selection of violin and good practice. Mr. H. Fowkes, who is an acquisition to the vocal musical talent of Deseronto, sang "The White Swan." Britton gave "The Dutch Girl who winked at me," and Misses Walker and Scott and Messrs. Fowkes and Walker gave a quartette in good style. A cornet solo and piano accompaniment by C. A. Snider and Miss Jennie Smith was tastefully executed. Mr. Lons, who is quite an actor, gave an excellent comic solo, and then "The McIntyres" by Mr. E. Bowen elicited an encore. A comedy, the poorest piece on the programme, was then enacted and the concert closed with the national anthem. The concert brought out a large amount of new talent which serves to show that with little effort Deseronto might in time assert itself in a musical direction.

The approaching municipal elections are already beginning to attract public attention. As yet we have heard of no new names, but doubtless there are many aspirants for civic honours.

The staff of the Central office are rapidly gaining a sleek and untouchable appearance, the result of faring sumptuously on "Shipman's" famous sausage, a quantity of which entrusted to her by the manufacturer to the knights of the quill.

LADIES.

One lady was overheard saying to another while in our store this week, "Why is it that you do all your trading here?" The reply was, "Because I get so well suited," meaning she was PERFECTLY SATISFIED with all her purchases from us. Such testimonies as these are encouraging, and there are thousands of people in these counties who are able to tell you the same thing. We are doing an honest, straightforward business, and you can rely on receiving the most courteous treatment. As we told you last week we do not carry a bankrupt stock and consequently do not have a lot of shoddy goods to palm off on you, instead of genuine honest goods. In our advertisements we tell you as well as we can about our goods and prices. If you would take the trouble to inquire you will find that we have goods on our shelves at prices to correspond with our advertisements. Although our purchase of Fall Dress Goods was large we are already making further purchases. This week we have made a special purchase of 1,500 yards of all wool French Dress Goods in all the leading shades. We have marked them at 27½c. per yard, but they are fully equal to goods other houses will charge you 35c. for. Ask to see them. Meltons, we have a fine line at 12½c. per yard; coarser goods at 8c. and 10c. per yard. English Dress Cloths in large variety. French Dress Cloths in large variety. Fancy plaid suitings, Tweed effects, etc. Our trade in this department is steadily on the increase. Miss Allison and her large staff of hands find it almost impossible to turn the orders out fast enough. It is quite impossible to make up outside work. We guarantee every garment made in our establishment to give entire satisfaction.

FANCY GOODS DEPARTMENT.

In this department we have made some special purchases of Goods which are just to hand this week. A line of Black Kid Gloves in all sizes which we are selling at 68c. per pair; these goods are equal to the regular lines at $1. per pair. Ask to see them. A full range of ladies' Underwear. We still keep on hand a full supply of three and four coil wire bustles, Jerseys, Tiques, Fascinators, Clouds, Wollen Shawls, etc.

"AT HOME."

The work of rebuilding the Parsonage of Christ Church, Tyndinaga Reserve, commenced early in the season, has been steadily prosecuted until it is now almost completed and ready to be occupied by the incumbent and his family. An inspection of the building shows that the work has been properly performed. The rooms are large and airy, and but few clergymen in Ontario will find themselves more comfortably lodged than the Rev. G. A. Anderson. The parsonage, as all familiar with its location are aware, is most admirably situated. Nestling amid beautiful trees, convenient to the church, adjoining the statue grove in the district, and overlooking the waters of the Bay of Quinte, a prettier site for a residence could not be desired. Encouraged and pleased with their exertions, the building committee and members of the congregation decided to show their satisfaction by holding an "at home" at the parsonage before the Rev. G. A. Anderson's departure. The Rev. G. A. Anderson, on Friday 18th Nov., was selected as the date for the occasion. Early in the evening of that day large numbers, including a contingent from Deseronto, could be seen waiting at home to welcome the Rev. G. A. Anderson and his family. About 7 o'clock dinner was announced. The drawing room had been arranged for the occasion a long table running the full length of the room. The ladies of the Reserve have long maintained a reputation for providing the best "spreads" in this section. On this occasion they completely surpassed former efforts, the table fairly groaning under the load of delicacies with which it was adorned. Turkey, roast pig and beef, tongue, ham—but why try to enumerate everything that would tempt the palate was there and in utmost profusion. Three times the tables were filled with guests and still the supply of provisions held out against the repeated assaults. It is not often vouchsafed to a Deseronto citizen to partake of such a hearty Thanksgiving day dinner as was served on this auspicious occasion.

After dinner the tables were removed, and the room properly seated and occupied by the assembled visitors. The Rev. G. A. Anderson, Missionary of the Reserve, was called to the chair, and in a brief address narrated the steps taken to erect the new parsonage. He expressed his gratitude for the many acts of kindness shown him by the people of the Mohawk Band, and his pleasure at seeing so many friends from Deseronto.

At the conclusion of his address Miss Emma Loft contributed a piano solo with excellent taste.

Chief Amosookah was then called upon by the chairman. The Chief gave an interesting address. He expressed himself as delighted at seeing so many met together to rejoice over the success which had crowned their labors and paid a warm tribute of praise to the building committee who had provided them with a school house and other privileges enjoyed by those in front. To accomplish this task he had felt it incumbent on himself to proceed to England that year to solicit funds from the people of England. He recounted the difficulties he encountered until at last he found kind friends in Sir Powell Baxton and Rev. Mr. Wilby. As a gesture of gratitude the former gentleman $212 had been realized. After that he met with much encouraging assistance. The New England Company and the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, each contributed £25 and the New England Company gave an annual grant of £50 for the Mission School. When he volunteered to go to second time to England in 1886, it was with many difficulties, as he was well aware of the many difficulties with which he would be confronted. Arrived in England he finally accepted the offer of the Colonial and Continental Church Society to labor as their agent receiving a commission on the collections. He had worked hard, holding meetings from one to three times a day, and visiting all parts of England and also Ireland and Scotland, in which latter country he had also received assistance from Presbyterians. As a result of his mission sufficient funds had been collected to restore the old church, which now presented a handsome and comfortable appearance, and also to rebuild the manse. He was glad that the Council had granted $400 to the latter undertaking and that the building committee had also donated $40 to the same object. The Band, he stated in conclusion, were deeply indebted to the Christian people of England and especially to the generosity of the Colonial and Continental Church Society. As a result of his two visits to England, $3,386 has thus far been received for church and school purposes on the Reserve.

After a well rendered vocal solo by Harry Foxson, of Deseronto, Rev. Robt. Atkinson, of St. Mark's, Deseronto, made a brief address referring to the pleasure he felt when he heard that Chief Amosookah had visited his native town in England where he had met several of his friends. He then turned to the audience and devoted attention which he observed characterized the services which he had attended at different times in the churches on the Reserve.

Dr. Oroniyatska, who had come all the way from Toronto to be present on the occasion, was the next speaker. As usual he was very happy in his remarks. He considered that the thanks of the Mohawks were due to Chief Amosookah and the Christian people of England. He felt that the sum of their duties as Indians was to gain the regard of the people of Canada and Britain and as Mohawks to sustain that name which their forefathers had raised to great heights. The other speakers of the evening were Mr. Neil McNell, whose address was most happy and well received, a Tribunes representative, and Chief Solomon Loft, vocal solo and choruses and instrumental selections by Miss Sophie Anderson, Miss On motion of Chief Solomon Loft, seconded by Mr. E. S. Poole, the following resolution was heartily and unanimously passed:—Resolved that the thanks of the people of the Tyndinaga Reserve and to the Christian people of Great Britain and Ireland, and especially to the Colonial and Continental Church Society and New England Company, for their kind sympathy and generous assistance in aiding in the erection and restoration of churches, schools and the remainder of the evening was very pleasantly passed with music and conversation. Much pleasure was occasioned by the ceremony of giving an Indian name to the Rev. Robt. Atkinson. With much mystic flourish acted as master of ceremonies, the gentleman was named "Kanon-sach," (New House). At a late hour this evening of genuine pleasure was round a close by all joining in singing the National Anthem.

"TOWN" OF DESERONTO.

Mr. Editor:—I think it will be the duty of the council for 1888 of this village of Deseronto to take steps to have the village erected into a town by the name of the "Town of Deseronto" to take effect on the first Monday of January, 1889. What say you?

WM. E. AYLSWORTH.

WHAT AM I TO DO?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unappreciable to two well-known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A bilious man is seldom at breakfast eating. Too frequently, alas! he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; it is not white and furled, it is rough, at all events. The digestive system is wholly out of order and Dyspepsia or Constipation may be a symptom of the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulency in the bowels. It is the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

THREE IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

To the Editor of the Tribune.

Sir:—As the municipal elections are almost at hand, it is time for all those interested in the progress of our already overgrown village to ask themselves: What can be done in 1888 to strengthen and maintain our position as the leading municipality, comparatively speaking, on the Bay of Quinte, if not in the province of Ontario. In my way of thinking the first question should be our incorporation as a town. Next, the establishment of a high school—these are two questions on which the electors should pronounce no uncertain sound—and lastly, waterworks, if our financial resources would bear the strain. Besides being a valuable boon to householders the erection of waterworks would give us a decided advantage in case of fire and should reduce the premiums on insurance. During the last ten years we have gradually pulled ahead of Napanee & Belleville. Those two corporations are now busy erecting waterworks; Will Deseronto allow us to get the start of us in this particular?

Yours &c.,

JAS. CAMERON.

RESCUED AT THE BRINK.

THE STORY OF A POOR WOMAN.

I called upon a poor woman who was very sick. She had not had her bed weeks. Her friends said she was dying of consumption; indeed she was so low it seemed that it would be but a very short time until she would pass away. I looked around on her little children and resolved if possible to cure her, but how to do it was the question. I was well used to the different forms of consumption and knew her trouble all came from the "head" and that her lungs were being destroyed by breathing the poisonous secretions into them. I came home praying that God would give me what was wanted to cure her—and he did it in a strange way. A little boy came into the room where I was and wanted me to look at a star on a piece of paper. It proved to be an advertisement of Naal Halm. I read it at once and it proved to be just what I wanted as to-day the woman's head is all right. She is able to do her own work and is getting stronger every day. This remarkable change was effected by one bottle of Naal Halm. Enclose 50 cents for another bottle which is for a young lady here who has had catarrh for a long time. Please send at once and I will try and make its worth known in this place. It is a pleasure for her to write for the suffering and praise the medicine that deserves it.

Mrs. Forbes, of Northport, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John McKinney.

Mr. George Sherman, of Hay Lake, is visiting at his uncle's Mr. Geo. Sherman.

Mr. James McKinney, with Messrs. J. McQuinn and J. H. Belleville, was on a hunting expedition to the North, returned last Thursday. They were quite successful, killing eight deer and a large otter.

Mr. Frank Sherman gave a social dance for the entertainment of his young friends in this vicinity, last Friday evening. The guests numbered about forty and a very pleasant evening was spent in whirling through the dance to the lively strains of the music.

Mr. N. H. Demill's shooting match for Thanksgiving day, was well patronized and afforded sport for those who enjoy shooting. It was a beautiful day but a strong westerly wind prevented quite a number of the spectators. Mr. John Robertson made the best shooting, gaining all six turkeys. Mr. F. B. Morden will give a shooting match in a few days.

KINGSFORD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On Wednesday of last week as Mr. James Jordan, of the 7th concession, was returning from Nanawau where he had been with a load of cheese from Albert Factory, and as he was going along the boundary road near Mr. Abbott's the tongue of the wagon broke and the horses ran away but were stopped at Kingsford. One of them had injured. Mr. Jordan was thrown from the wagon but fortunately was not seriously hurt.

Mr. Baker, who has been teaching in this section for the past year, has been re-engaged for next year.

Mr. Francis Brennan and family of Ensey Hill, have removed to Nanawau where they will reside for the winter.

Several of our young men left this week for the Kuthun. One of them had left on Monday for Manitoba.

Mr. Michael Fox, of Deseronto, was visiting Mr. Peter Doyle of last week. After a short stay Mr. & Mrs. James Walsh have been visiting Mr. James McInerney for the past week and left by the morning train on Tuesday for Stirling via Belleville. They leave for Wyoming Territory early next week.

There will be Divine Service in St. Patrick's Church, 7th con, Richmond, on Sunday morning.

LONSDALE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. John Naphis, who has been keeping a hotel in this town for some years but failed to get a license of late, and finding it did not pay to sell without, having paid one fine with another to be paid, and a third sentence to four months in the house of correction moved to Deseronto on Thursday of last week.

On the 17th inst. Mr. M. Corrigan made his last shipment of cheese from Albert Factory. The notice to ship being so short it did not get to him in the night to Nanawau in order to ship at the time ordered.

Miss George Ann, eldest daughter of Mr. Benjamin Haigh, of Lonsdale, after a long and painful illness borne with great resignation, was released from her suffering on Tuesday, 22nd inst. at 10 o'clock p. m. by death. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 11 a. m. Mr. Haigh has been very severely afflicted during the past year and great sympathy is felt for him in his severe bereavement. Just one year ago 2nd inst. was the date of the first funeral in his family and during the past year he has been bereft of his companion and three daughters, by that lingering but fatal disease consumption.

Report says Mr. Daniel Griffin has failed for parts not generally known, quite a number would like to have him return.

Mr. George Gordon, formerly of the Reserve, passed through our town on Tuesday evening; it is thought to visit his brother, J. B. Gordon, of Kingsford.

LINSAPE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The trotting race between Mr. J. Anderson's pony "Indian Boy" and Mr. P. Gordon's mare "Kate" 3 mile, best 2 in 3 time, for $100 a side, at Haliburton, was a failure. Mr. Gordon was declining to bring the mare. Pat, my boy, next time you want to come up to the scratch.

The Old Fellows League, No. 100, are giving the citizens a treat this week. Mr. Scott Siddons has been engaged by them for next Wednesday evening, the 23rd inst. There will be a full house.

The Lunday Dept. of the Rathbun Co. are just finishing their operations for this season. They have had a busy one having shipped 197 train loads of ties, lumber, posts, telegraph poles, lumber and shingles, each train having with engine and with 16 cars. Quite a full of the beautiful last Saturday evening which enabled our citizens to enjoy sleigh driving on Sunday.

Thanksgiving day was generally observed here all places of business being closed and services in the different churches.

A lively fracas occurred here last Wednesday just after conductor Pryn had passed on his train for Haliburton. A gang of men on their way to the shawnee for Mr. Boyd and Co., being under the influence of "tangle leg" created a big disturbance which the conductor, who was attempting to disperse the crowd, was obliged to attempt to do, but nothing to be noticed except by critics of whom I was one. Otherwise she Cleman boarded the train and after a good deal of trouble marched off of them off to the cooler there to await the pleasure of his worship in the morning.

READ.

From Our Own Correspondent.

We have much pleasure this week in announcing the marriage of Mr. James K. Walsh, of Oshman, Johnston County, Wyoming Territory, son of the late James Walsh, of Bachelors' Walk, to Miss Sarah T. Downs, daughter of the late John Downs. The happy event took place on Wednesday the 16th inst., at St. James Church, Stirling, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father Walsh, at 10 a. m., in the presence of a large and fashionable congregation. The bride looked lovely and was dressed in golden brown satin elaborately and tastefully trimmed, with bonnet of plush same color, and a beautiful bouquet of white lilies, &c. Miss Hyland, of Stirling, was bridesmaid and was dressed in peacock blue satin and plush bonnet to match and carried a beautiful bouquet of white flowers. Mr. John D. Lafferty, of Rawdon, acted as best man. After the ceremony the happy party left for the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lafferty, Rawdon, where the wedding breakfast was served. Let it be in the afternoon the happy couple left for Stirling station followed by a shower of rice and the customary wishes. They took the 4:30 train for Belleville, thence by Grand Trunk to Deseronto Junction, for the residence of Mr. James K. Walsh, in the city of Deseronto. Mr. & Mrs. Walsh are both well-known in this neighborhood and have always been highly esteemed. The wedding presents were numerous, costly and beautiful. In conjunction with their hosts of friends we sincerely congratulate the happy couple and wish them long lives and happiness.

On the 17th inst. Mr. Peter Reynolds, one of our former residents, but now residing at Oshman, Johnston County, Wyoming Territory, was married at Fort Carter, Montana, to Miss Clara A. Crew, daughter of W. F. Crew, of Grey Agency, Montana. We extend hearty congratulations. Three years ago one of our local poets wrote:—

"And knights who westward wander I hardly think will find, Steps more light or eyes more bright than those they left behind."
These words were written at the time when a certain gallant knight hied to the west and taken in connection with recent events lately being floating on the probability knight having returned to claim his lady fair.

OTTAWA LETTER.

THE LUMBER BUSINESS—OUR CORRESPONDENT GETS MIXED—A GREAT AMATEUR OF THE LUMBER BUSINESS—A VERY GOOD PERSON—HOW SIR JOHN LOOKS.

I said I would touch upon the lumber business again when writing to you last. The correspondents of the different lumber journals have lately been flaring out the probable shortage of the cut for this season in the Ottawa Valley and speculating as to its effect on lumber markets next spring. It is amusing to read the different reports with the figures appended, and will men smile as they lay down the paper and say, I wonder what will be the result of the flaring.

There certainly has been too low in the rivers to give the mills all the power they required during the latter part of the season and the excessive cutting down a couple of weeks sooner than they would had there been plenty of water, but purchasers I notice can find all the lumber they want, and will, in my opinion, be able to do so next spring and summer before the 1888 cut is marketable. There is certainly as much stock being cut in the former years, on the average, which I am quite sure is not sold for spring delivery. The correspondents of lumber journals understand about as much of the true state of the lumber operations, cut, &c., as the average office clerk does of his proprietor's bank book.

One thing that The Tribune was able to raise its voice against is the throwing of small wood and sawdust into the river by the mills. I have sometimes found it almost impossible to propel a small boat up the river against the current, and the sawdust floating on the river below the falls, and the tug boats often have to open out all steam in order to get through it.

This is a right thing. Let it be explained that lumbermen generally vote with the government, and the government's eye is in this matter is poor.

The Tribune has been blowing about the quick loading done at the Rathbun Co. docks, and I have been taking up the echo and the echo. I have been taking up the echo and the echo. I have been taking up the echo and the echo.

"Why" said I, "they loaded the Reliance, a steam barge there, with 197,000 feet of lumber (making six axits) for it was in the night eight minutes and seventeen seconds" when I was hired, and when I tried to explain that it takes six hours and seventeen minutes, I was called a modern Ananias, and told that a corner grocery dealer would try a worse one than that about the was seep.

We have had during the last three weeks at the Opera House, Langtry, Khea and Mrs. Scott Siddons, three well-known comedians, who are going, the first from newspaper talk and the last two by their acquired reputation, the one as an actress, the other as a reader. It is a great pleasure to have them here, and on one occasion not mixed in the figures.

did fairly well, on one or two occasions being called before the curtain and applauded. As for me, looking at it now coolly and calmly I don't think I ever would have made a great actor. I have been told that by my friends, but I credited it to jealousy at the time, but at the present I am satisfied to figure the fact board measure in a 24-in. square rather than tread the boards before the shouting multitude.

Friends of Mr. James Macpherson, formerly cashier for The Rathbun Co., and now of this city will be glad to learn that he is about to come into possession of a number of $12,000 for services rendered his company during the U. S. civil war, Mac having discharged himself and retiring. Capt. Mac and I have about concluded arrangements to make a grand continental tour when this good fortune arrives; the $12,000 will also accompany us not necessarily for publication but merely as a matter of good faith.

I brushed against the veteran chieftain, Sir John, the other night going into the Opera House, and was surprised when I took a strategic look at him to note how fresh and youthful he appeared. He had on a fore-and-aft peak cap, and looked as spry as an amateur yachtsman. His wife was with him and they greeted me from interviewing him right there and then in regard to fish, and also to tell him that his friend H. B. and John had just arrived. I wished to be remembered to him with this cordial assurance that they were as ever—sincerely.

Parliament is expected will open early in January, when Ottawa may again be filled with orators, state men, newspaper men, seasonal clerks, hangers on, lobbyists, &c., filling up the hotels, boarding-houses and say every place available, sometimes leaving saloons with full plates and sundry promises to pay. Verily this is a great country, and scores of our apparently great men who wear an eye-glass, and never move out without cane and gloves in their hand, and to whom an humble individual like myself feels as though they were in the presence of royalty when they approach, and think we should move away backwards bowing them along; yet I am told that some of these same lordly scribes have their water turned off by the water-works, while the milkman and the grocer have to institute a boycott in many cases, before anything in the line of payment can be expected of them. The Big Store.

Those large Iron Bound Cases in front of the Store last week contained our Fall Importations of British and Foreign Dry Goods, which have been passed through the customs and are now ready for inspection. The diversity of the goods we imported is such as to make it almost impossible to enumerate all the different styles, but we hope to have the pleasure of showing every person in Deseronto and vicinity our desirable Stock.

DRESS GOODS.

We have given special attention to this Department and will show the most desirable fabrics of English, French, German and American makers. The completeness, freshness and variety of stock afford Ladies the most ample latitude from which to select.

GLOVES and HOSIERY an endless variety. We will sell Ladies' Kid Gloves black and colored at 75c a pair and which cannot be equalled elsewhere for $1.00.

UNDERCLOTHING and TOP SHIRTS must be seen to be appreciated.

In our Tailoring Department, is displayed a variety of fabrics, including the finest of imported goods. Only selected labor is employed, and this coupled with the practical knowledge of Mr. Stoddart, which a life long experience in the business confers, ensures the production of work which is not surpassed by any similar establishment in Canada.

BOOTS & SHOES.

In this department will be found full and complete lines of Infants', Children's, Misses', Women's and Men's Boots and Shoes, purchased from the best manufacturers and selected with great care for the requirements of our patrons.

A distinguished feature of our Establishment is the magnitude of our grocery and provision trade, both wholesale and retail. The extent of our operations gives us every advantage in buying and enables us to offer to our customers inducements in prices and quality which cannot be obtained elsewhere. We respectfully solicit a call from dealers and consumers.

A cablegram says it is intended to extend the Victoria and British Columbia railway to form an adequate depot and store for the British Pacific fleet.

Determined as we are to be made at the next session of the Quebec Legislature to secure the repeal of the Act prohibiting Sunday trading in Montreal.

The new Salvatorian barracks in Montreal were formally opened on Saturday, the dedication ceremony being continued all Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Landreth of Montreal, is taking an action for $10,000 against the College and Medical Health office for a serious illness which was, he says the result of compulsory vaccination.

Canadian Customs officers have received orders to give the term deer in the Tariff Act the widest interpretation, so as to ensure the absolute prohibition of exportation to the United States.

Negotiations between the citizens of Winnipeg and the Manitoba Government for the construction of a Red River Valley railway have been resumed, with reasonable hope of a successful result.

In reference to the claim of the Six Nations Indians to certain lands on the Grand River, the Privy Council has adopted a report, declining to submit the claim to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, declaring that the claim has no legal basis and does not deserve exceptional consideration.

There are now Icelandic, German, Scandinavian and Hungarian colonies in the North-West and all are doing remarkably well. Some objection has been offered to settlement by nationalities; but after all there is much reason to expect any unpleasant results; because these people ultimately conform to the language and character of the country. They long to be of the country as the people of the country, and this is one of the distinguishing marks of good settlers.

AMERICAN.

All the lines west of Chicago have commenced the sale of 2,000 mile tickets at the low rate of two cents a mile.

Municipal or monopoly control of gas is a question that has been brought squarely home to the people of the Empire, where the three gas companies have been consolidated and raised prices 150 per cent.

Swordbearer, or Wrap-up-his-tail, the Indian who has caused trouble in Montana, is looked upon by his warriors as a person of great influence with the Great Spirit. They believe he holds conversations with the Great Father. He tells them where there are the place where God lives, and where there are three men—a white man, an Indian and a Chinaman—with whom the Great Spirit intends to meet again after he has killed all the people who are in the war with the swordbearer, is now inaugurating.

At the Comstock silver mines in Virginia City, mining science has reached its highest point, according to a San Francisco newspaper, which says that there they carry water down a vertical shaft to the depth of 1,700 feet, and then pump it thick to the surface, running the gigantic shafts at the same pressure. When the plan was suggested to the engineers of Europe they laughed at it; but now it's a part of the mine, and furnishes a power immeasurably greater and cheaper than anything hitherto applied in mining.

A peculiar accident occurred to a passenger train Monday night at Milford. The engine of this driving wheels burst and one piece shattered and fell down through the first passenger coach, and left the train at the rear end of the second coach without doing any injury to passengers or crew. The train was running about 40 miles an hour at the time, and the flying piece of tire had the velocity of a cannon ball. It sounded like a shell scream as it flew through the coaches. The damage to the cars is about $300.—Philadelphia Press.

The Crown Prince's condition is very alarming, and it is expected that a very dangerous operation will have to be performed. The Emperor, whose death is drawing near, exhibits an incessant craving for his son's presence.

Our Brave Volunteers

Endured the severe marches of the North-West campaign with admirable fortitude. The Government should have supplied them with a quantity of the celebrated Putnam's Painless Corn Extract. It never fails to remove corns painlessly, and the volunteers and everybody else should have it. Beware of substitutes. Get Putnam's Extract and take no other.

Waterproofs, apparently made of light-colored silk, have been introduced in Paris. They are very useful, and, for a wonder, fit. Voilet wood is used in a variety of articles for the toilet, and also for the handles of fans.

The Rabbit Plague.

What a paradise must Australia be for the boy who has been a hare and falls, as we read of the multitudinous rabbits of Victoria! "I am in a trap," says a boy, "and I would like to import a number of American boys instead of the proposed jacks."

The rabbit question is still a burning one in several of the Australian colonies, in Victoria, Queensland and New South Wales are each of them suffering from the pest, and the means of abating, not to say eradicating, it. In New South Wales especially, where many of the best sheep and cattle have been almost taken possession of by the little mischiefs, a great deal of money has already been spent in attempts to kill them off, without, apparently, much effect. A considerable army of rabbit-killers has been in the field for two or three years back, but the ranks of the enemy have hardly been thinned. What the precise method adopted to catch and kill is we are not aware, but the expense of the protracted campaign, compared with the number of dead, does not say much for its efficiency. Last year the pest in New South Wales amounted to £146,000, being at the rate of about 1s. per rabbit slain. And yet 3,000,000 is a large number to have bagged in a twelve-month, and the rabbit has not only kept a soup kitchen going merrily in the towns of the colony, where so many have been out of employment, but has presumably in want of a good dinner.

The fact that such an immense slaughter has made little or no impression on the rabbit swarms of the colony, that proportions they have grown, how detrimental to the farming and grazing interests they must be, and how enormous the task of their extermination has become. Some other and more effective way of dealing with the pest is urgently demanded. One ingenious suggestion is to import jackals. These animals, it appears, hunt hares and rabbits as cats hunt mice. An instance is cited of their having in a few days cleared a large tract of the district of Algeria. Import jackals in sufficient quantity, set them adrift in the over-run districts, and the thing is as good as done. The Australian Government is chary of sanctioning any novel importation. Who would have suspected that the introduction of a few innocent rabbits to give a home look to some of our colonies, would have given rise to a difficulty which has swollen almost to the dimensions of an Irish war!

Well, the jackals, in the meantime, are likely to become as troublesome as the rabbits themselves.

A Woman's Confession.
"Do you know, Mary, I once actually contemplated suicide!" "You hardly ever hear of a woman doing that," said Mrs. B. Tell me about it." "I was suffering from chronic weakness. I believed myself the most unhappy woman in the world. I looked ten years older than I really was, and I felt twenty. Life seemed to have nothing in it worth living for." "I have experienced those symptoms myself."

"Well, I was cured at the eleventh hour from the commission of a deed which I shudder to think of. A friend advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I did so. In an incredibly short time I felt like a new being. The 'Prescription' cured me. I owe Dr. Pierce a debt of gratitude which I will never pay."

The subscription to the Paine-Burgess testimonial in commemoration of the old hero's victory have closed. They reached $11,500, which includes the $5000 contributed by the Paine-Burgess Association. A WONDERFUL SUCCESS.

The following are a few of the many testimonials received by the Breadmakers' Yeast Company:

"I have used your yeast every year for my bread but not having very good luck with it lately, I thought I would get a package of your yeast. I got it and have had the best bread I have ever had in my house. It is simply delicious.—Mrs. J. GOODLAND, Port Dover, Ont.

I have tried the Breadmakers' Yeast with remarkably good success after fifteen years' experience with my own make of yeast. I feel no hesitation in saying that the Breadmaker's yeast is destined to make itself popular.—Mrs. ISAAC ALDRIDGE, North Williamsburg, Ont.

I see in the publication of TRUTH that you are soliciting testimonials for your Yeast. I keep a boarding house and usually have from four to eight boarders besides five in family. I have used your Breadmakers' Yeast for table bread and bread and think it makes the whitest and most palatable bread I have ever eaten. I remain, Mrs. E. TINKER DUNDAS.

Having used your Yeast according to directions, I find it superior to any yeast that I have ever used before. The bread was the finest I have ever baked.—Mrs. ALICE WATSON, Napier, Ont.

I have made good bread for 45 years, but have tried your Yeast and have just lovely, white, light and flaky bread. The yeast I have used for many years. I can truly recommend it to all bread makers.—Mrs. ELIZA CRONK, St. Mary's P.O., Ont.

Dear Sirs—I have used several packages of your Yeast, and am conscientiously of that I never used anything equal to it, and I have been housekeeping for over twenty-five years.—Mrs. E. FENNIS, Horning's Mills, Ont.

Egar is a hustler. He invites customers through the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

The planet Venus, now seen every morning in the eastern heavens, shines with unusual brilliancy.

The superintendent of the motive departments are busy getting their departments ready for the winter.

The Reeve has issued a notice forbidding all coasting on the boardwalk. There have been many accidents and the Chief has orders to arrest all offenders.

Read Egar's advertisements. Egar has a splendid stock this season. Call on him early and get your Christmas presents. He can gratify your every choice.

Revs. D. O. Crossley and G. W. Dewey, after a successful season of evangelistic work at Wyoming, are now at Lindsay, where the prospects of a glorious work is very encouraging.

Gospel Song Service in the Church of the Redeemer, Sabbath evening next. Subject, "The Parable of the Lost Coin." All are welcome, especially those who have no church connection.

During the holiday season all changes of advertisements and reading notices must be handed in by Wednesday at noon, otherwise they will not be inserted in the forthcoming issue of THE TRIBUNE.

Mr. George Hunt has placed on our table a specimen of gold, quartz taken from his brother's place about three miles back of Tamworth. Assayers pronounce this quartz rich in the precious metal.

There will be no meeting of S. Mark's Guild this evening. The members of the Guild are requested to attend in full force at the Oyster Supper to be held in honour of the Rev. Rural Dean Baker on Friday evening next.

The Ashes Sifter of which Mr. James Stokes at the dock is agent, is without a rival. It will pay for itself in the course of a month or two, as every person who has tried it can prove. Coal is high this season, therefore secure one.

On Sabbath evening next, Nov. 27th, in the Methodist Church, Deseronto, a Christian Battle Song Service will be held, with a review of St. Paul's first missionary tour, parting in Antioch on the Orontes and Antioch in Pisidia. Service will commence at 7 o'clock. The public are cordially invited.

The forthcoming Christmas Number of HARPER'S MAGAZINE will be the most precious descendant of its royal line, with the noble blood of many kings of thought throbbing its arteries, and richly decked in sumptuous attire of illustrations. In point of attractive reading and luxurious drawings it takes the palm even from the previous holiday numbers of "The Giant of the Monthlies."

The Annual Meeting of the Deseronto Branch Bible Society will be held in the White Church, on Monday next, 28th inst., at 7:30 o'clock. The usual business will be transacted and those elected for the ensuing year. Rev. Joseph Young, of Belleville, Agent of the Society, and the resident clergyman of Deseronto, will deliver addresses. Admission free. The public generally are cordially invited to be present on this interesting occasion.

It is a peculiarity of HARPER'S MAGAZINE for December that it contains no continued stories. It is a volume complete in itself. The short stories and sketches are exceptionally good, however. "Tula" is an almost painfully realistic tale by Annie Rives. "Annie Laurie" is a pleasing bit of fiction by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, with four illustrations by John Hart. "Captain Santa Claus" is by Captain King. "Craddock's Heldest" is by Frances Courtney Baylor; and a delightful sketch of "His Day in Court" is by Charles Egbert Cresswell.

The Rev. Rural Dean Baker, of Bath, and formerly of Deseronto, will (D. V.) preach two sermons in the White Church, on Sunday, Dec. 4th. It has been arranged for the members of S. Mark's congregation and the friends of Rural Dean Baker, to give the Rev. gentlemen a public reception in the basement of S. Mark's Church on Friday evening next, Dec. 2nd. An Oyster Supper will be provided on this interesting occasion. Tickets 25 cents each. Proceeds will be devoted to the Organ Fund. A very pleasing time is anticipated.

The Young People's Association of the Church of the Redeemer held their regular meeting at the Manse on Friday evening, Dec. 4th. There was a good attendance and all enjoyed themselves most heartily. In addition to indulging in several games a good programme was extemporized, including a recitation by Miss Jessie Porter, a reading by Mr. J. Allum, Jr. and W. A. Macleod, a Gaelic song by Mr. N. McNeill, an address by Mr. J. Fraser, Torrance, and some instrumental music by Mrs. Craig. During the evening cake and coffee were served and enjoyed. At the close a motion picture, "The Resurrection of Jesus Christ," was shown, and was well received by Mr. Hampton, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Craig for their kindness in placing the manse at the disposal of the Association and for the generous hospitality extended during the evening. The next meeting of the Association will be held in the parlour of the church on Friday evening, Dec. 2nd.

From Oysters at R. G. Jolly's.

Tuques & Sashes all colors at the Big Store. Rubbers for men, women and children at the Big Store.

New story books just received at the Tribune office.

Red Light indicates fresh oysters at R. Goddard's.

The farmers are said to be holding their hay at too high a figure.

The Big Store have a special line of all-wool Flannel at 18c a yard.

Secure your winter Ulster. Several good lines still on hand at the Big Store.

The Big Store is showing a splendid assortment of Lamps at reasonable prices.

Herb and Tom consider themselves pillars of the church as they are both pious apostles' clerks.

A handsome dump car has been turned out at Chatham, N. B.

What about that crossing at the Deseronto Power Mills for which the travelling public are clamoring so loudly?

A new charcoal kiln, the second this year, and the third at the works is being constructed at the Chemical works.

The cheapest line ever offered of men's all-wool Shirts and Drawers, $1.20 a suit at the Big Store. Sold at all other stores for $1.40.

The wide-awake little boy now finds his way with great regularity to the Sunday schools in order to share the pleasures of Christmas tide.

The Industry has ceased work for the season. This vessel with her auxiliaries is one of the most profitable appliances in the possession of the Rathliff company.

Prof. Soddaby, the eminent ventriloquist, gave a pleasing performance on Tuesday evening. His feats were such as to greatly impress his audience, who were happy to have him visit Deseronto again.

HARPER'S BAZAR, to be published November 18th, will contain an illustrated Thanksgiving story, "Whether or No," by Mrs. Rose Terry Cooke, and two pages of illustrations from the exhibition at the rooms of the Associated Artists.

It may be safely said that Mr. George Souder has this year the finest stock of jewelry ever seen in Deseronto. Those contemplating making purchases for Christmas should give him a call. Did you see those watches lately imported and sold for a song?

Do not forget the Annual Tea Meeting of the Methodist congregation to be held in the White Church this evening. Tea served from 7 to 8 o'clock. The ladies have prepared a sumptuous repast. The programme will leave nothing to be desired. Tickets, 25 cents.

Several of our prominent citizens have received circulars from Europe asking them to purchase tickets in the Hamburg lottery. It is just as well to cast these circulars into the fire. Nothing is to be made out of these gambling ventures, which yearly pauperise so many unwary speculators.

Mr. E. W. Rathburn, together with Hon. Benjamin Butterworth and Mr. Erasmus, have addressed a public meeting in Oswego last Saturday evening. The meeting was called by the Board of Trade to discuss Commercial Union. The Oswego papers state that all the speeches were of a high order.

A change of time tables comes into effect on Monday, 28th inst., on the Grand Trunk. Six of Quebec and N. T. & Q. Ry. Trains leave Deseronto to meet Grand Trunk express at 12:10 and 11:10 a. m., and mixed trains going east at 7:45 a. m. and 8:55 p. m.; for express trains going west at 2:55 a. m. and 4:45 p. m., and mixed going west at 9:15 a. m. and 8:55 p. m. Parties taking 11:10 a. m. train can go direct through to Newburgh, Tamworth, &c.

A poor woman, who suffers from some mental hallucination, is wont to parade our streets at all hours of the day and night. Her case deserves the consideration of the philanthropic ladies of Deseronto. It is possible that some sisterly persuasion would cause her to forego her peripatetic habits. Should this fail the approach of severe weather will necessitate her removal to some institution. We are glad to learn that thus far none have been made out of her, or thoughtless as to make her the victim of jest or insult.

A case was tried before Mr. Flint on Monday morning, the principals in which are from Deseronto. Samuel Shaw had an account of $1.50 against Mrs. Elizabeth Green and went to her house for collection. She denied the claim and gave him five minutes to move out. When the five minutes grace had expired Shaw said to her, Mrs. Green is a large woman and did not hesitate in assisting him to vacate. The services of the ever-ready broom were enlisted, and the handle broke over his back as he made his exit. The fine and costs amounted to $7.00.—Belleville Intelligence.

The Globe of Tuesday says:—"A motion was made yesterday to the Common Pleas Division a Court at Osgoode Hall, to fix a day and place for the trial of the petition by John White against the return of S. B. Bardett to the House of Commons for East Hastings. It was contended by the respondent, as in the East Elgin case, that the petition was out of Court by reason of the six months' delay in bringing it to trial. The point was fully argued out, and the motion now stands for judgment. A question was also raised as to the jurisdiction of a Divisional Court to fix a day, etc. It was contended that a Divisional Court has very limited power, chiefly of an appellate nature; that the High Court sits only in the person of a single judge."

The Reeve in his brief communication, and Councillor Cameron in his letter, bring up the question of the incorporation of Deseronto as a town. We are pleased to receive such correspondence as it indicates a revival of public spirit. Deseronto should undoubtedly be made a town. We have sufficient population and our wonderful growth still continues. The change would entail only trifling expense, and every resident feels ashamed of the title of village. We believe the change will be hailed with general satisfaction. A high school is our greatest necessity. Without it the youth of Deseronto cannot hope to compete as mechanics, business men or professional men with those of other towns. The working men should not allow their present dead salaries in this respect to continue. As for waterworks, they are a sanitary necessity. Whether undertaken by the corporation or a company they would soon become a profitable investment.

Latest Novelties and Big Bargains in

HOLIDAY GOODS.

Great Success.

Our Flannel Sale is a great success. We call it a Flannel Sale, but it really is not. The fact of the matter is, we have secured some special bargains in Flannels and are giving the people the benefit. The extraordinary value is seen at a glance. This is a great opportunity to secure Flannels at wholesale prices. Allow us to tell you about the prices once more. All-wool—remember all-wool—Grey Flannel at 18c. per yard. Better grades at 20c., 25c., 30c., 37½c. and 40c. per yard, which are equally good bargains. Red, White, Navy, Opera and Canton Flannels.

Mantle Department.

We would like to tell you about our Mantle Department again. Our success in this department is phenomenal. We are turning out more ordered Mantles, Ulsters, Wraps and Jackets than ever before in the history of the establishment. Miss Allison is just as expert in cutting and fitting Mantles as Dresses. To this we add the benefit derived from having them made in our Tailoring room. We carry a large stock of Sealettes, Mantle Cloths, Tweeds, etc., for this trade. Every garment guaranteed satisfaction.

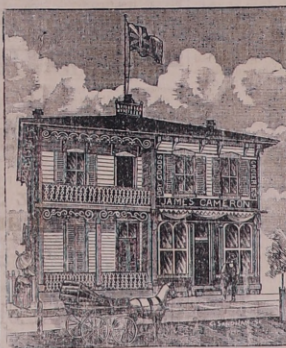

Fancy Goods Department.

This is the Ladies' department. It is possible to humbug the public generally, but it is not possible to humbug the individual woman. The ladies who make their purchases from us can tell you about our values and assortments in Gloves, Hosiery, Fascinators, Clouds, Tuques, Booties, Leggings, Mitts, Underwear, etc. A nice range of Children's Knit Jackets, commencing at 75c. each.

Millinery Department.

The latest novelties in Millinery Goods can be procured from us. We carry a splendid assortment of Wings, Tips, Feathers, Ribbons, Plushes and trimmings of all kinds. If you want nice stylish Millinery Goods at reasonable prices don't fail to call on us.
